

Petersburg Social.

PETERSBURG, June 15.—The great social event of the month is to be the visit of the Governors of Virginia and Pennsylvania at the time of the unveiling of a monument to the soldiers of the Forty-Eighth Pennsylvania Regiment. The monument is to be placed in Prince George county. Both Governor Swanson and Governor Stuart are to be the guests of Mr. Geo. Cameron, Jr., of Ravenscroft, who is an officer of Governor Swanson's staff.

There is to be a musical and literary recital at the Market-Street Methodist Church this evening, by Misses Beale and Daisy Wilson. The program is a delightful one. These young ladies have been heard in Petersburg before, and are always greeted by large and admiring audiences.

There is to be on Monday evening, June 17th, at 8 o'clock, an entertainment given by the temperance rally of the Washington-Street Christian Church. Several young ladies are to sing and recite. The audience will be addressed by Captain Mark H. Smith and Rev. C. B. Richards, and a very enjoyable evening is expected.

Miss Virginia McKenny has returned in Lynchburg, where she has been the guest of honor at several handsome dinners and the recipient of a great deal of attention.

Mrs. Gordon McCabe is visiting in New York.

Miss Margaret Pegram and Mrs. Bettie Walker have returned from a delightful visit to Jamestown.

Miss Virginia McKenny has returned from Bryn Mawr College, where she is a student.

Misses Della and Elizabeth Bryan have returned from a visit to Mrs. Grinnan, of Brampton, Orange county, Va.

Mrs. Herbert Cooke, of Annapolis, Md., is visiting her mother, Mrs. Nottolus, on Washington Street.

Wilmington.

WILMINGTON, N. C., June 15.—Marriages again marked the week for local society, and one of especial interest was that of Miss Laura Placide Clark, daughter of Captain and Mrs. Haywood Clark, and Mr. Horace Mann Emerson, son of the late Horace M. Emerson, who at the time of death was traffic manager of the Atlantic Coast Line. The wedding was not a church one on account of a recent bereavement in the Clark family.

The wedding of Miss Marathia J. Heide, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Heide, and Mr. Linwood B. Michaux was celebrated Wednesday afternoon at the handsome Heide home, and was one of the prettiest home weddings ever observed in Wilmington. Following the ceremony came an elegant reception, and at the end of which Mr. and Mrs. Michaux left for the North. The only attendants were Mr. Tracy Hodges, best man, and Miss Michaux, a sister of the groom, maid of honor.

Thursday evening, Miss Bessie B. Pillyaw, daughter of Mr. O. M. Pillyaw, became the bride of Mr. Edward S. Herring, a young business man of Winston, N. C.

Tuesday Mr. William Hall Moore arrived home with his bride, nee Sappington, of Washington, D. C., and they are at home, to their friends at Miss Julia James's, corner Third and Grace Streets.

Mr. Gordon C. Johnson also returned with his bride, after having spent some time in Richmond and visiting the Jamestown Exposition.

Invitations were sent out this week to the marriage of a popular young Wilmington couple, Miss Mary L. McGirt and Mr. James Sprunt Williams, the event to be solemnized June 26th at Fifth-Street Methodist Church.

Mr. J. H. Bornemann, one of the leading German merchants of this city, will sail from New York next Tuesday on the Crown Prince of Denmark for the fatherland, where he goes to visit his aged mother.

Fredericksburg.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
FREDERICKSBURG, VA., June 15.—Mrs. Thomas S. Shepherd entertained the bridge whist club here, with Wednesday afternoon from 4 to 6. In addition to the members, a number of guests were present. Refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Shepherd entertained their friends Thursday night at progressive euchre from 8:30 to 11 o'clock. In honor of their guests, Misses Marie Brown and Nannie Noble, of Richmond, Miss Pannell, Beale won the lady's prize, and Mr. William Dawson the gentlemen's prize. Mr. Raleigh Taylor got the booby. A large number of guests were present, and refreshments were served.

Miss Eva R. Tyler is visiting Miss Minnie G. Smith, in King George county.

Mrs. Alice D. Carr of Warrenton, is a guest of Dr. George H. Chevin and family.

Miss Sally J. Laev is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. P. Smith, in Richmond.

Miss Bessie Belle Cannon is the guest of her uncle, Mr. M. S. Langhorne, at Seaford.

Mrs. B. M. Roseboro, who has been the guest of relatives here, has returned to her home in Richmond.

Miss Carrie P. Moore, of Bon Air, is the guest of the family of Mr. W. E. Bradley.

A large number of Fredericksburgers visited the Jamestown Exposition this week. Most of them have returned much pleased with their trip.

Crittenden-Mahon.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
BAGLEY, VA., June 15.—The approaching marriage is announced of Miss Lizzy Lee Mahon, daughter of Mr. J. C. Mahon, of York, Va., and Mr. J. C. Mahon, of York, Va. The wedding will take place quietly on the morning of June 26th at the bride's home in Caroline county, Va.

PRETTY RADFORD BRIDE WHOSE HUSBAND WILL TAKE HER NAME

RADFORD, VA., June 15.—Dr. Annie P. Copelan, the daughter of Mr. M. Copelan, of East Radford, is spending her honeymoon with her parents here.

Dr. Copelan is a graduate of the Baltimore University, and has established a large practice in the Monumental City since her graduation, in 1904. She has charge of a clinic at the Woman's Medical College, Philadelphia, in the spring.

Dr. Copelan's recent marriage to Mr. Abraham Eratt, a dental student at the University of Baltimore, created considerable interest from the fact that Mr. Eratt took the name of his bride, in defiance of the usual custom, the change of name to be legalized by the courts.

Dr. Copelan's reason for retaining her maiden name was due to her ambition in her profession and to the fact that she did not wish to lose any of her large practice by a change of name. Her husband will graduate next year, and will make the third Dr. Copelan practicing in Baltimore. Dr. M. Copelan, a brother of the bride, being a dentist of that city.

Lexington Social.

LEXINGTON, VA., June 15.—The final ball Wednesday night in the university gymnasium was the concluding function of gaieties at the commencement exercises of Washington and Lee University. The dancing-room was tastefully decorated with fraternity emblems, flags and banners, and an elaborate display of hunting, skillfully arranged by Mr. William K. Kramer, of Lexington, decorator.

The ball opened at 10:15 o'clock with a beautiful figure danced by twenty couples. The president of the ball, Mr. Thomas Owen Bagley, of Fayetteville, Tenn., led the figure with Miss Janet Stephenson, of Highland county, Va., who wore pink tulle over satin, with pearl ornaments. The other couples in the opening figure were:

Miss Guendolen Howe, of Lexington, with Student Hiram M. Jew.
Miss Nell Brockmough, of Lexington, with Student W. R. L. L.
Miss Martha Moore, of Lexington, with Student Roscoe Stephenson.
Miss Louise Haskins, of Lexington, with Student Pretlow Holland.
Miss Maude Caskie, of Lynchburg, with Student Summers Davis.
Miss Edith Jamison, of Roanoke, with Student W. E. Jones.
Miss Mary Forrester, of Louisville, Ky., with Student David Pipes.
Miss Lucie Dunnington, of Farmville, Va., with Student L. J. Desha.
Miss Ethel Louise, of Baltimore, with Student D. S. MacDonald.
Miss Florence Tait, of Norfolk, Va., with Student Powell Glass.
Miss Helen Lathrop, of Richmond, Va., with Student C. M. McCrum.
Miss Nadine Steele, of Lexington, with Student Steele, of Lexington, Mo., with Student Herbert Anderson.
Miss Anna Purcell, of Richmond, with Student Randolph Bledsoe.
Miss Lucy Bagley, of Fayetteville, Tenn., with Student W. M. Hood.
Miss Alice Izard, of Roanoke, Va., with Student Charles B. Bagley.
Miss Flora Bryan, of Parkersburg, W. Va., with Student L. P. Bryan.
Miss Jennie Jewell Powell, of Los Angeles, Cal., with Student C. E. Dexter.
Miss Jane C. Forbes, of Warrenton, Va., with Student John L. Campbell.
Miss Susie Hickerson, of Manchester, Tenn., with Student C. B. Bagley.

The chapters were:

Mrs. James Lewis Howe, of Lexington.
Mrs. John H. Lettane, Lexington.
Mrs. Samuel B. Walker, Lexington.
Mrs. Beverly N. Tucker, Lexington.
Mrs. Montgomery B. Corse, Lexington.
Mrs. J. W. Kern, Lexington.

Mrs. Frances Mallory, Lexington.
Miss Annie White, Lexington; Miss Bertha Howell, Lexington; Mrs. Samuel W. Jamison, Roanoke, Va.; Mrs. Arthur Krug, San Paulo, Brazil; Mrs. Carter Glass, Lynchburg; Mrs. J. N. Pomeroy, San Francisco, Calif.; Mrs. A. E. Anderson, Lynchburg; Mrs. A. W. Calmes, Nelson, Roanoke; Mrs. George Goodrich, Fayetteville, Tenn.; Mrs. W. S. Forrester, Louisville, Ky.; Mrs. Alexander Nelson, Roanoke; Mrs. J. S. Lehman, St. Louis, Mo.; Mrs. E. W. Nichols, Lexington; Miss Virginia Chatter, Orange, Ill.; Miss Stephenson, Staunton, Va.

Leesburg.

LEESBURG, VA., June 15.—Mrs. N. C. Nichols has left for an extended visit to relatives in Ohio.

Miss Dorothy White, of Washington, is the guest of Miss Mary McCabe, of this place.

Miss Margaret Rust, of Falls Church, has been the guest of Miss Elizabeth Ball for several weeks.

Mothers Richard H. Tebb, Jr., and Walter H. Burke are visiting the Jamestown Exposition.

Mr. Victor McCabe, of the Naval Academy, is at home on his summer vacation, the cadets being allowed to spend their vacation at their homes, instead of being on the usual cruise, as the war-ships are this summer stationed at Jamestown for the exposition.

Professor S. Frederick Smith, of the Washington College of Music, will for the summer months have charge of the choir of St. James Episcopal Church.

Cards are out for the marriage of

VIRGINIA DAY

June 12th, 1907.

By DUVAL PORTER.

Historic Muse, thou whose touch divine
Awakes the past, inspire our heart to-day;
Virginia, we sign, born of a royal line,
Whose wave-rocked cradle where she an infant lay,
An empire in herself in embryo.

Virginia, thou the synonym of all
That stirs our inmost souls, what son of thine
Will not respond to thine imperial call
And most devoutly worship at thy shrine?
Not one, unless of honest pride devoid,
Whose loyalty to her has been destroyed.

Rich is Virginia's dowry, ample is her store
Of shining deeds in war as well as peace;
Her name is written large upon this shore
In Commonwealths, nor does her glory cease
With things material: in realm of mind
What other State Virginia leaves behind.

Her pioneers not from oppression fled,
Escaping laws they hated to obey,
Not wild adventurers by booty led,
But nation-builders born to rule and sway
By brawn and brain a mighty hemisphere
And build a home,—last hope of mankind here.

"The Strénuous Life" in all its rigor theirs,
Pestilence, famine, the savage foe,
A wilderness unbroken, pitfalls and snares,
Within, without, and yet they dared to go
In forest depths continuous to explore
Where white man's foot had never trod before.

Here first the genius of Anglo-Saxon race
As empire-builders clearly manifest;
Here first began that long stupendous chase—
The modern boast—"The Winning of the West."
When Spotswood and his knights in that high day
The barrier scaled that to the westward lay.

Like romance read the annals of that day,
As tales chivalric its daring deeds,
When Pocahontas, the savage King held sway,
And Powahontas, pitying, interceded
For life of him whom we commemorate
As savior, founder of our mighty State.

Here, in Virginia, freedom first unfurled
Its banner to the breeze, when Bacon gave
Its first expression, served notice on the world
That a Virginian will not be a slave,
To tyrants or usurpers bend the knee;
Or birthright barter—his birthright to be free.

When destiny was clearly manifest
An hour struck to mark a nation's birth;
Her sons stood forth, the Titans of the West,
And led the way by virtue of their worth,
Whose fame to-day in undimmed lustre stands
The pride of ours—the hope of other lands.

Here Mason first from chaos order brought,
In Bill of Rights, which set forth and defined
Those principles for which our fathers fought,
While Jefferson, her son of myriad mind,
By stroke immortal has linked his name,
Like Washington's, ever with his country's fame.

And Patrick Henry! Is there another name
In modern days that dares with his compete
For burning eloquence or forensic fame?
His was the power to sweep men off their feet
With his audacity in his country's cause
Which knew not how to intermit or pause.

Tho' rich in master-minds, whose civic lore
Devis'd the frame of our organic law—
An orator who palm of victory bore,
Whom cries of "Treason" could not over-awe—
Virginia adds to her immortal page
The name of Lee, the greatest of the age.

Behold, to-day the navies of the earth
Are anchored in our waters, glad to share
The lofty honors of a nation's birth,
And in our triumph participate and share.
Let us not forget—too oft the case, alas!—
That God alone has brought this thing to pass.

God bless Virginia! May she arise and shine
As in the past. Speed, speed that happy hour
When other sons may rule by right divine
Of moral force and intellectual power,
To bless the world with riches of the mind
And glorious deeds which leave no sting behind.

[This poem was intended for publication on Virginia Day, but the pressure of matter was such that it had to be held until to-day.—Ed.]
